

Dutch and Japanese Encounters since the Pacific War

Agenda >
General

The Netherlands Institute for War Documentation (NIOD) has initiated the three-year research programme 'Dutch and Japanese Encounters in Europe and Asia since the End of the Pacific War' within the framework of the historical research programme 'Japan and the Netherlands', which is sponsored by the Japanese-government. This programme, that aims to stimulate Japanese-Dutch scientific cooperation in this field, focuses on the general development of post-war relations between Japan and the Netherlands, and the ways their in which shared war history has influenced Japanese-Dutch encounters in Asia and Europe in the post-war period.

The programme studies different aspects of these post-war encounters. It also intends to chart Japanese and Dutch reactions to a number of post-war social processes in Asia and Europe in a comparative perspective. The results of this research will be made available as a series of English- and Japanese-language publications. NIOD hereby invites proposals for projects within the scope of this programme.

We offer (1) funds for a Japanese-Dutch workshop and publication; (2) writing and publishing subsidies; and (3) 'matching funds' for post-graduate researchers. Proposals must be submitted by 1 September 2003. Requests for one-off subsidies for individual scientific activities from the 'contingency fund' can be made throughout the year. <
